

Key Business Insights

The West region has the highest sales contribution, while the South region has the lowest among the four regions

Sales declined slightly in 2016 but increased significantly from 2017 onwards, reaching the highest level in 2018.

Consumer customers contribute more than half of total sales, making them the most important customer segment.

Technology generates the highest sales among the three product categories, followed by Furniture and Office Supplies.

The overall average shipping time is approximately 4 days.

Standard Class has the longest average delivery time, whereas Same Day shipping provides the fastest delivery.

Standard Class is the most frequently used shipping mode, accounting for approximately 60% of orders.

Orders delivered to the Central region have the highest average shipping time, indicating relatively slower delivery compared to other regions.